

WILSON BOOSTS LEAGUE IDEALS

President, in First Speech in More Than a Year, Pleads For Adoption of Peace Pact

TOUCHES ARTICLE X

Real Purpose of Clause Is to See Justice Done and Humanity Protected and Vindicated

Washington, Oct. 27.—President Wilson, in his first speech since he took office more than a year ago, today in his "fellow countrymen" took to endorse the League of Nations and summoned them to "the concert of peace and the completion of a great national achievement" on their part.

He said the world war represented a "blackening of the human race" and that the League of Nations was the only way to prevent such a catastrophe.

Speaking from his wheel chair to a delegation of pro-League Republicans and Independents who called at the White House, the President declared that the great moral influence of the United States would be absolutely thrown away if the nation did not complete the task which her soldiers and sailors so seriously undertook.

"The American people, Mr. Wilson said, should not be deceived into supposing that imperialistic schemes ended with the defeat of Germany. He declared there were other nations which were likely to be powerfully moved or were already moved by commercial jealousy by the desire to dominate and have their own way in politics and enterprise and that it was necessary to "apprize them that the world would be united against them as it was against Germany if they attempted any similar thing."

The President read his address from a manuscript. His visitors declared in a formal statement, after leaving the White House that it was evident he was voicing the profoundest emotions of his heart, and that more than once his voice "choked," especially when he referred to the soldier boys and the mothers of those who had fallen in battle.

"The whole occasion was impressively solemn and tender," said the statement, adding that the delegation felt that it was "nothing less than magic that the President had been brought to such a striking physical condition as the result of his indefatigable labors for his country and for humanity."

"They felt," concluded the statement, "that this might be the President's final appeal to the conscience of his countrymen in the supreme moral decision that they are called upon to make."

Mr. Wilson received his visitors, 15 in all, including two women, in a small room off his study, near the entrance to the White House. He remained in his wheel chair throughout the reception, which lasted 40 minutes. Afterward, Rear Admiral Grayson, his physician, indicated that he had shown no physical ill effects, saying he had come through in exceptionally fine form.

After the delegation was greeted by the President, Dr. Hamilton Holt, of New York, its spokesman, delivered a brief address, declaring that the League of Nations transcended party politics and was "the greatest moral issue that has confronted the American people in this generation." He added that the delegation represented a vast number of other Republicans throughout the United States who are ready to put patriotism above party in the present critical hour, to the end that "our boys whose blood hallowed the fields of France will not have died in vain."

In his reply, the President appealed to the editors and publishers of the country to publish the full text of the covenant of the League of Nations so that the people might better inform themselves of the issue involved.

Discussing Article X, the President took occasion to say that "the so-called Americanism which we hear so much prating about is spurious and intended for party purposes only."

The real Americanism, he declared, was to see justice done and humanity protected and vindicated," stating that this was the purpose of Article X.

Describing Article X as the specific redemption of the pledge which the free governments of the world gave their people when they entered the pact, the President declared, "we have come to choose whether we make good or quit."

"We have joined issue," he continued, "and the issue is between the spirit and the purpose of the United States and the spirit and the purpose of imperialism. This choice is the same choice of the present campaign. I suggest that whatever office is voted by this question—shall we or shall we not redeem the great moral obligations of the United States?"

"Now the world in anguish calls to America for a new contribution. It calls for that understanding among peoples and nations which shall draw together in harmony and unity. I shall ally contentions and conflicts, which shall remove ignorance and prejudice.

STRIKE PROLONGED BY NEW DIFFICULTY

Settlement of English Coal Strike Was in Sight When New Issue Developed

(By The Associated Press)

London, Oct. 27.—A new difficulty has arisen delaying the complete settlement of the coal strike, which was believed to have been attained on the basis of an increase in the miners' wages as set forth in the earlier announcement this afternoon. That the difficulty is serious is indicated by the fact that the cabinet has been summoned to meet early tomorrow morning before the conference of the miners and government officials reconvenes.

At the last moment, the miners presented a new demand which compelled adjournment of the conference with the representatives of the government. Nothing has yet transpired as to the nature of the miners' new demand.

London, Oct. 27.—The government emergency bill, which provides for all contingencies in the event the miners' strike should involve the railway and transport workers, was rushed through all its remaining stages today and passed the third and final reading tonight. The vote was 238 to 55.

DALRYMPLE DENIES RESIGNATION HINT

Prohibition Director Simply Assists in Revising Liquor Transportation Regulations

Chicago, Oct. 27.—After it had been announced at the federal building today that Major A. V. Dalrymple, federal prohibition director for Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin, had resigned, telegrams were received from Major Dalrymple in Washington saying that he had not resigned and did not intend to quit.

Frank D. Richardson, mentioned as Major Dalrymple's successor, when the resignation announcement was made, said he had heard nothing of the reported resignation.

A telegram from Major Dalrymple said he was in Washington to assist in the revision of regulations governing transportation and delivery of alcoholic liquor.

BRITISH POET DENOUNCED FOR HIS GERMAN ATTITUDE

London, Oct. 27.—Robert Bridges, British poet laureate and chief mover in forwarding to German professors on October 17 an appeal for reconciliation, has sent a long letter to the London Times, defending himself and his fellow signers against the avalanche of criticism appearing in newspapers of this city.

"The communication was signed," he writes, "by those on our side whose patriotism has not settled down into indiscriminate personal suspicion or ill-will, and it appeals confidently to the same class on the other side. It is the intention of the signers of the appeal to encourage the moderate party in Germany, which has always deplored the chauvinistic policy leading up to the great war. People here talk as if they would readily forgive the Germans if there were nothing to forgive. They do not see that it is the fact that we were so terribly injured that makes our forgiveness so necessary and so powerful."

CONSIDER IRELAND'S STATUS.

New York, Oct. 27.—The commission of five, which will hold a public inquiry on conditions in Ireland, has been elected by members of the committee of 199 on Ireland, it was announced here tonight. The members of the commission are Jane Addams of Chicago, Joseph W. Folk of St. Louis, former governor of Missouri Frederick C. Howe of Washington, D. C., Joseph H. Maurer of Harrisburg, Pa., president of the Pennsylvania state federation of labor, and Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts.

MASS FOR LATE MAYOR.

Cork, Ireland, Oct. 27.—Solemn requiem high mass for the repose of the soul of Terrence MacSwiney, the late Lord Mayor of Cork, was celebrated at Queenstown today in St. Colman's cathedral. The bishop of Cloyne officiated and the members of the city council were present, occupying reserved seats. Business in the town was completely suspended during the services, which were attended by 5,000 persons, while many hundreds knelt outside the cathedral.

that all of us may serve the weak. I want in years to come to dedicate myself to bringing all American men and women into a brotherhood of understanding, so that we may act together, each individual is a vital thread. I want to bring about the greatest service that America can give to the world: the service of an example of a world democracy undivided. I want to preserve and foster a United America.

DEFENDS MORAL SIDE OF LEAGUE

Gov. Cox in Spirited Debate With Unknown Man in Middletown, Ohio, Audience

ACCUSES OPPONENT

"Wiggling and Wobbling" and "Trying to Secure Election Under False Pretenses," Charged

Dartmouth, O., Oct. 27.—Whether or not the American congress would be bound morally to adopt recommendations from the League of Nations, was discussed today by Governor Cox during a demonstrative day spent in his home communities, including Middletown, O., his boyhood home, and here tonight in his home city.

"The question of a moral obligation was asked point blank by men in the Democratic Presidential candidate's audience at Middletown. Without giving a yes or no answer, Governor Cox declared that there would be no legal obligation upon the United States, but that the presumption in the conscience of the world will determine some action which will not only be right but which will be effective." He added that the Monroe doctrine has been maintained without the firing of a shot and that he favored a Hitchcock reservation declaring congress could be free to accept or reject league advice as to employment of American military force.

The governor's home folk turned out in force today, thousands joining in giving him enthusiastic testimonials of their esteem. He made five speeches mostly devoted to vigorous championing the League of Nations, in his home communities. Many delegations from nearby cities were here tonight. After two addresses at Middletown, the governor spoke to a women's audience which packed Eagles hall tonight, to another capacity audience at Memorial hall and to a large overflow meeting outside. A red torch light procession containing numerous bands and hundreds of persons in marching clubs preceded tonight's rallies. In the events, the governor was the center of cheering, surging throngs.

Discussion of moral obligations under the League was the first during the governor's campaigning and was broached by a stranger in the governor's Middletown audience. It was said that the man who stated that at one time he had taught school, refused to give his name.

He and Governor Cox held a lengthy and spirited, but friendly joint debate which lasted several minutes, regarding the moral obligations and several other League questions.

The incident caused the governor to relate other circumstances of the campaign in which he said "hecklers" and other means had been used by Chairman Hays of the Republican national committee in attempts at embarrassment.

Governor Cox also continued his fire in all today's speeches against Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, reiterating that the senator was "wiggling and wobbling" upon the League issue and trying to secure election under false pretenses.

The governor reiterated that "a great wave" of League sentiment was "sweeping the nation."

The governor's debate regarding League obligations followed his statements in most of his speeches, to meet contentions that the League would, as the governor put it, "take American men and boys into every back alley 'row in Europe'."

When he reiterated the contention that congress only had power to declare war "in or out of the League" and that the League council was limited solely to advice "the governor's questioner interjected:

"The President would advise congress as to the recommendations of the council, would not that morally bind congress?"

"It is very distinctly stated," Governor Cox replied, "in one of the Hitchcock reservations that we undertake nothing which binds the United States to go to war because it has no power to make such an arrangement in view of the limitation under the constitution. This covenant of the League of Nations is based upon the idea that civilization has had a lesson and this covenant is simply a bet on the morality of the world."

"You say to me how do I know moral force will be sufficient? I will give you a historic precedent. Isn't the covenant of the League internationally precisely what the Monroe doctrine is on this continent? What is behind the Monroe doctrine, except our moral force? Have we ever had to fire a shot in 160 years to maintain it?"

"That doesn't answer my question," the governor's questioner interrupted. "Well then, I will answer it in another way," the governor replied. "What you have in your mind is this—that what lay upon the conscience of the world in the face of a grave world-wide disorder?"

"The presumption is that the conscience of every nation will determine some action which will not only be right but will also be effective."

Governor Cox then read the Hitchcock reservation, stating that congress would decide when American armed force should be used, and asked: "Will the recommendation of the council," the governor's interrogator,

SEEK RECOGNITION OF IRISH REPUBLIC

Argumentative Proposals Submitted to Secretary Colby by Delegation of Sympathizers

Washington, Oct. 27.—Arguments favoring recognition of the new republic of Ireland were formally presented to Secretary Colby at the state department tonight by a delegation of Irish sympathizers, headed by Frank P. Walsh, former chairman with William Howard Taft, of the war labor board.

Mr. Walsh was accompanied by Eugene Kincaid, New Jersey; James K. McGuire, former mayor of Syracuse; James McGarrity, Philadelphia, and Daniel C. O'Flaherty of Richmond, Va., all members of a large committee appointed at the Irish Race convention in Philadelphia two years ago and which sent a committee, composed of Mr. Walsh, former Governor Dunne of Illinois, and Michael Ryan of Philadelphia to Paris to intercede with the American delegation at the peace conference for Irish recognition.

Secretary Colby listened without comment, but cautioned the chairman when reference was made to Eamon de Valera as "president" of Ireland, that as secretary of state, he could hear them only on the understanding that they were there as American citizens and not as representatives of officials of the Irish people. "We demand recognition, not as a favor," said Mr. Walsh, "but as a right. The Irish republic is now established as jure de jure and de facto government. Its stability and representative character are attested by the endorsement of the ballots of 90 per cent of the Irish people. The courts of the Irish republic are functioning daily and their decisions are accepted by the Irish population."

CONSIDER COAL SITUATION

Conference of Civic Organizations in Eastern Cities To Take Action Arranged

New York, Oct. 27.—A conference of civic organizations in eastern cities to take action relative to the coal situation, was determined upon at a meeting here today to discuss conditions in New York and other cities regarding the coal supply and its present cost.

Health Commissioner Copeland said the conference will be called immediately. It will endeavor, he stated, to bring pressure to bear upon the interstate commerce commission to reconsider the priority order to ship coal to the northwest for a period sufficient to enable New York to accumulate enough coal to tide over any emergency that may arise.

REST COCHI CASE.

Bologna, Italy, Oct. 27.—Both the defense and the prosecution in the case of Alfredo Cochi, on trial here, charged with the murder of Ruth Crum, an 18-year-old high school student, in New York city in February, 1917, announced this evening that they would rest tomorrow and begin summing up.

pressed, "bind the congress morally to follow the council's recommendations? Yes or no?"

Amid cries from the audience of "throw him out," the governor insisted that the man be given a hearing, and responded:

"Wait a minute. I'm going to do this in my own way. If a grave matter arises we are not legally bound to do it. You ask if we are morally bound. If it is a grave matter, we are going to accept a message from God Almighty. We are making a bet on the morality of the world."

The governor's questioner declared that Article X would sign away American sovereignty and the candidate replied:

"Who signs with us? All the nations that go into the League. And each one, according to your admission signs just as much away as the other one signs, and as they are all giving it up where does it go? Into the air? If we signed away our sovereignty wouldn't that be in conflict with the constitution? The supreme court would stop it as quickly as they would stop burglary."

Governor Cox then reiterated his statement that an American bar association committee had declared the League constitutional in every respect and asked his questioner if he knew where "this candidate" stood on the League.

"He isn't so divinely inspired," the governor's co-debater replied, "that he can tell immediately what he is going to do with something in the future."

"No, he is senatorially inspired," Governor Cox replied. "He is willing to cross the bridge when he comes to it and solve these questions by a complete diagnosis of the situation at the time."

"If you were running for the presidency and Judge Taft said you were for the League and Hiram Johnson said you were against the League and if you kept quiet, wouldn't you be trying to acquire the presidency under false pretenses?" Governor Cox asked.

"Senator Harding is either fooling Taft or Johnson, is he not?"

HARDING LAUDS ROOSEVELT AIMS

Senator Also Acclaims McKinley as Author of a New Era of National Development

TELLS OF AMBITIONS

Day in Cleveland Is Devoted to Advocacy of a "Return to Constitutional Government"

Cleveland, Oct. 27.—Paying tribute to Theodore Roosevelt and William McKinley as authors of a new era of national development, Senator Harding told a crowd of several thousand in Gray's armory here tonight that his ambition was to perpetuate the spirit of united and free handed nationalism which he said they had awakened.

Recalling that today was the anniversary of Roosevelt's birth, the nominee declared that the Roosevelt policies have brought to the United States "a new conscience and standard of truth that all right must be founded upon obligations and a fundamental sense of fair play." He praised Roosevelt unreservedly for his "bigness of heart, wisdom and outstanding integrity."

Under the leadership of McKinley, Mr. Harding added, the nation found a new unity and a new industrial life which Roosevelt fostered by his ability to awaken in American citizenship a new sense of nationality and advancement.

"I see before us another great work to do," the candidate continued. "The world in English calls to America for a new contribution. It calls for that understanding among peoples and nations that shall draw all together in harmony and unity."

The armory speech was one of several delivered by Senator Harding during the first day of his final campaign swing through Ohio and was a part of a vigorous program during his stay in Cleveland. On the way here from Marion, he had made short talks to crowds at Shelby and Crestline, and after being escorted through the streets in an old fashioned torch light parade here, he was called upon to make in all four speeches. All except the armory address, however, were very brief and were devoted to advocacy of a "return to constitutional government."

The shorter speeches made by the candidate here were to the Independent Aid society, to those who joined in the torch light parade and to a crowd at Fairview Park hospital. He had dinner at a downtown hotel as guest of the Jewish society and was to spend the night and the greater part of tomorrow here before leaving for his address tomorrow night at Akron, O.

In his address at the armory, Senator Harding outlined at length his conception of the mission which awaits the nation both in its domestic and foreign affairs.

"Today is the anniversary," he said, "of the birth of that man who, by bigness of heart, wisdom and outstanding integrity and courage, will always be known as the great American—Theodore Roosevelt. It is my privilege to add by tribute to his undying memory, and it shall be my attempt upon this occasion, under the inspiration of the eternal love which all Americans must have for him to state what his example and his deathless contribution to this America of ours always means to me."

"The full development of America and of American ideals come into a new and glorious growth with the new century as if time itself had marked a milestone in progress by the prosperity of America. My countrymen, I do not mean when I speak of the prosperity of America merely its material prosperity; I mean the spiritual glory of America, I mean the development, the growth and the flowering of our nation's soul."

"It was the wisdom and leadership of William McKinley which founded a new era of American advancement. It was under his leadership that wise American policies lifted up into a new good fortune and permanent gain as a thriving, eager, producing nation, acquiring new commercial strength, founding a new industrial life, weaving a new network of transportation creating a new opportunity for mankind."

"It was McKinley who planted the flag abroad and gave America first bestowal of our standards of freedom with new glory to the republic. It was Roosevelt who brought to this glorious America a new conscience and a stalwart doctrine that all rights must be founded upon obligations and the realization of man's duty to man, and a solace for the weak which never forgot justice to the strong, a fundamental sense of fair play, an appreciation of mercy and tenderness and enduring faith in the righteousness of men and women."

"Men and women loved him, and men and women will forever love him, not merely because he had loved them, and had eternal faith in their capacity to reach new heights in spiritual achievement, but because he awoke in them his own faith, because he taught them to have faith in their own conscience and their own righteousness. So this new America of ours should have an unparalleled sense of integrity, an unparalleled desire for service and an unparalleled capacity to show the world that mercy and justice go hand in hand. To America, Roosevelt, ever

HAVANA TO STAGE BIG TITLE BATTLE

Offer of Cuban Capitalists Wins Dempsey-Carpenter Bout for Island's Capital City

New York, Oct. 27.—The fight between Jack Dempsey and George Carpenter for the heavy weight championship of the world will be held in Havana, Cuba, it was announced here tonight.

Selection of Havana as the scene of the contest, was made by Tex Rickard, Charles E. Cockran and William Brady, who stated they had received an offer of such proportions from a syndicate of Cuban capitalists that it financially was determined the championship battle would be staged in Havana.

Details of the match have been agreed upon and the actual signing of the articles merely awaits the arrival of the representative of the Cuban syndicate. He is expected to reach this city within a week and upon his arrival definite announcement of the date of the contest will be made.

The three promoters made the announcement after a lengthy conference in W. A. Brady's office. None of them would disclose the identities of the Cuban capitalists who bid successfully for the big battle.

"I am perfectly satisfied with the Havana battle," said Tex Rickard, "but I cannot disclose the identity of the representative of the Cuban syndicate as yet. He will be here within a week or so and everything will be announced upon his arrival. The Cuban capitalists have made us an offer which means a safe guarantee of success for us and eliminates to a great extent any chance of gambling on the proposition."

Earlier in the day Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, stated that unless certain arrangements regarding a bonded stake holder were inserted in the articles of agreement, he would not sign them. Tonight, however, Kearns came from the conference room smiling and declared that everything was satisfactory to him and that the arrangements had his unqualified approval.

Carpenter and his manager, Deschamps, who were present, also signified their satisfaction with the Cuban offer. Dempsey, who arrived a little late, said that if his manager, Kearns, was pleased with the proposition he was more than satisfied.

MORE PLEDGED TO HARDING

Seven Additional Names Are Added to Statement Recently Made Public

New York, Oct. 27.—The names of additional supporters of the statement put out recently by Elihu Root, Jacob Gould Schurman, Herbert Hoover, Oscar S. Straus, George W. Wickersham and other Republican advocates of international cooperation in support of Warren G. Harding Republican nominee for President, were made public yesterday by the Republican national committee. The names follow:

Dr. Appleton Morgan, president New York Shakespeare society; Waldo H. Dunn, professor of the English language and literature, College of Wooster, Ohio; William H. Wood, professor of biblical literature, Dartmouth college, Hanover, N. H.; Dr. John Gordon, former president Howard university, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Robert Stuart MacArthur, president Baptist World Alliance, New York city; C. O. Gunther, professor Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, and R. Fulton Cutting, New York city.

WHITE SOX DENY RUMORS.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—The Chicago American league club, in a statement issued tonight through its secretary, Harry Grabiner, denied that Harry Redman or anyone else had given the club positive evidence prior to the grand jury baseball investigation that Chicago players had "thrown" games to Cincinnati in the 1919 world series.

The statement was in reply to reports that the club had been aware of the game throwing and could have taken action before the grand jury began its investigation which resulted in true bills being voted against 13 persons.

DEMAND SLAYERS BE PUNISHED.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The state department announced today that it had taken steps to urge on the Mexican government prompt and effective measures for the apprehension and punishment of murderers of two American citizens, Arthur L. Mosley and Gustav Salazar, slain near Tampico last Monday. Salazar, it was said, might have been Ignacio Moreno Salazar of Tucson, Arizona, to whom a passport was issued October 8, for himself, wife and two children to visit relatives in Mexico.

FISHERMEN'S REGATTA.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 27.—The Esplanade, during the American flag, attracted here tonight to meet the Canadian schooner, Delaware, in the International Fishermen's regatta, which begins next Saturday off the entrance to this harbor.

PROBE MARINE RULE IN HAITI

Brigadier General Barnett, Former Corps Commander, Examined by Special Court of Inquiry

CORRECTS SOME DATA

Estimate of 3,250 Natives Killed in Action or Otherwise in Five Years Changed to 2,250

Washington, Oct. 27.—Public investigation of the conduct of American Marines in Haiti, was begun today by the special naval court of inquiry with the examination of Brigadier General George Barnett, former commandant of the Marine corps, and Major McClellan, of the corps' historical division. The first session lasted only a little more than an hour, and while the court will meet again tomorrow no further witnesses have yet been summoned.

George Barnett told the court that his charge of "indiscriminate killing" of natives in Haiti which prompted the inquiry, had been based on the records of the court martial of two Marine corps privates, Walter E. Johnson and John J. McQuillan Jr. He corrected a previous announcement that a total of 3,250 natives had been killed in action or otherwise during the five years of American occupation of the republic, explaining that an error in addition made in the historical section of the corps resulted in this announcement. He had learned since, he said, that the total was 2,250.

Major McClellan, in whose office the casualty list was compiled, submitted a table showing the recorded number of bandits killed. He said that very few had met death otherwise than in action. Native casualties in 1915, the first year of the occupation were placed at 212, those in 1916 at 50, in 1917 two, in 1918 25, in 1919, 1,871, and in 1920, 90.

The witness explained that the large casualty list last year was due to attacks in force by the bandits on Fort au Prince, and to the campaigns conducted in the hills.

General Barnett said he wanted it made clear that his letter of last year to Colonel John H. Russell, in which the reference was made to "indiscriminate killing" of natives was based only on the records of the trials of Privates Johnson and McQuillan. He said, however, that the statement of counsel and testimony in those cases so shocked him that he had directed further investigations. He reiterated that by indiscriminate killing he has not meant "killing," but rather execution without judgment.

WHEAT RAISERS ON STRIKE

Refuse to Ship Products to Market Until Base Price of $2 Is Received

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 27.—Grain operators, market officials and state boards were watching closely today for the effects of a reported "strike" of wheat raisers, who, it was said, were refusing to ship their product to terminal markets until a basic price of $2 a bushel for the wheat was realized.

The "strike" called recently by the National Wheat Growers' association in a proclamation urging members to withhold their wheat from market until the $2 price was obtained, was denied by W. H. McGeary, Wichita, Kan., secretary of the organization, to be in full force. He asserted that the association membership of 70,000 was unanimous in its intention not to sell, and predicted that the desired price would be realized within 90 days.

J. C. Mohler of Topeka, secretary of the Kansas state board of agriculture, on the other hand, was emphatic in asserting that there was no such "strike" in Kansas and his view was being upheld by many grain men who asserted that reports of falling off in deliveries yesterday at some terminal markets might be attributed to several causes not related to a "strike."

BRICK MANUFACTURER DIES.

Elmira, Oct. 27.—Richard C. Eisenhart, president of the Consolidated Brick company of Horseheads, a suburb of this city, died suddenly this afternoon at his home. He was the founder of companies operating brick plants in several sections of the country and a widely known authority on the subject of commercial ceramics. Mr. Eisenhart was prominent in the county's of national and state associations of brick manufacturers.

Those important soft little woolens—they need the most delicate laundering there is!

His wool things, so silly small they look like silk—believe, are very real to him—there must not be a single scratchy shirt, nor one shrunken band in his whole wardrobe!

Every night they're gathered up and tossed into a big bowlful of the gentle Lux suds. Then just soaping, and pressing of the rich suds through the very soiled spots.

There's no matting and no shrinking because there's not a bit of rubbing to hurt the fine wool fibres.

Let Lux keep all his tiny wool things soft and sweet. Your grocer, druggist or department store has Lux—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

To keep his woolens soft and unshrunken

Whisk two tablespoonfuls of Lux into thick lather in bowlful of hot water. Add cold water until lukewarm. Squeeze suds through. Do not rub or twist.

Rinse in three lukewarm waters. Squeeze water out. Dry in moderate temperature, press with warm iron.

No suds so wonderful for dainty baby things.

TWO ARE ABSOLVED OF BASEBALL PLOT

Joe Gedeon, St. Louis American Second Baseman, and Arnold Rothstein Are Exonerated

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Arnold Rothstein of New York and Joe Gedeon, St. Louis American league second baseman, today testified before the Cook county grand jury investigating the baseball scandal which the state attorney's office afterwards announced had exonerated the two men from complicity in throwing of games in the 1919 world series, but had materially strengthened the cases against some of the men already indicted.

The jury today completed the taking of testimony in the investigations which have lasted more than a month and resulted in two bills being voted against 13 men on charges of conspiracy to do an illegal act, but will hold a final session Friday to finish up clerical work. The jury will vote no more true bills, according to state officials.

Gedeon and Rothstein testified against Abe Attell, Hal Chase, William Burns and others on whom the jury had already acted. Their testimony probably will result in an attempt to have Attell brought back here from Canada, for trial, the officials said, it being believed here he can be extradited.

Supplementing the announcement by state's attorney's office, President Ban Johnson of the American league declared he felt that "Gedeon was entirely innocent," and Alfred Austrian, attorney for the Chicago American league club, issued a statement declaring that "Rothstein, in his testimony today, had proved himself guiltless."

Attorney Austrian declared that Rothstein, who had been mentioned in some quarters as the man who had financed the bribing of Chicago White Sox players, not only had not helped "fix the series, and so forth, but had done everything he could to prevent the fixing."

COLBY DENOUNCES BOURGEOIS

Declares President of League of Nations Council Has Spoken Without Authority.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Secretary Colby said today that Leon Bourgeois, president of the council of the League of Nations, had no right to speak for the signatories of the league in his declaration yesterday that Article X was not in fact "anything more than the moral foundation of the covenant," and could be eliminated without impairing the efficiency of the league.

"The League of Nations is a contract between 43 signatories," said Mr. Colby, adding that Bourgeois could not reduce or increase the responsibility of the signatories to the league.

BANKER IDENTIFIES JOHNSON.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 27.—E. K. Nash, president of the Bank of Depew, N. Y., today identified Albert Johnson, alias Joyce, as one of the four men who robbed the institution of $16,000 in cash and bonds on the afternoon of October 5. Nash said George "Jiggs" Losterer resembled one of the robbers, but bandages that cover his face make positive identification impossible. Johnson was killed and Losterer wounded last Thursday during a bank robbery at Bedford, O.

MARKET UNDERGOES DAY OF PRESSURE

Selling, from the Very Outset, Converges Around Steel Shares and Kindred Issues

New York, Oct. 27.—The stock market was under incessant pressure today, the extent of the impairment, while comparatively moderate in seasoned shares, assuming wide dimensions among the more speculative issues. From the very outset selling converged around the steels.

Equipments, motors and their subsidiaries, oils, tobaccos, sugars, chemicals and numerous unclassified specialties, were swept into the reactionary movement at extreme losses of from one to five points. Ralls of the better type made only moderate concessions, but junior issues eased sharply on small offerings.

An incident of the session was the weakness of Savage Arms, following news of the suspension of dividends on the second, preferred and common shares. Strength of exchange in London foreshadowed early adjustment of differences between the British miners and the government. Call money pursued its recent course, opening at nine per cent and advancing to 10 per cent before the close.

Bonds were irregular on a relatively small turnover. Popular issues, including Liberties, showing nominal gains and recession. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

QUITS DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

New York, Oct. 27.—The resignation of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt Jr. as a member of the finance committee of the Democratic National committee and her support of the Republican ticket through a campaign contribution, was announced here today at Republican headquarters. Mrs. Vanderbilt's only explanation of her action, it was said, was that she was unable to continue to support Governor Cox and has decided to vote for Senator Harding.

APPROVES PERMANENT COURT.

Brussels, Oct. 27.—The council of the League of Nations approved today the plan for a permanent court of international justice as adopted by the Hague committee of jurists, with the exception of a provision of obligatory jurisdiction and some minor matters. Those parts of the plan generally attributed to Elihu Root, the former American secretary of state, were accepted in their entirety.

Voters Attention!

Voters who are in doubt as to the proper method of marking their ballots for next Tuesday's election, will be welcomed at the Republican headquarters, over the Corner Bookstore, 206 Main street, where full instruction will gladly be given. Sample ballots will also be provided for those who desire. If unable to come personally, phone 553. Rooms open both day and evening.

WHEN RHEUMATISM HITS YOU HARD!

Sloan's Liniment should be kept handy for aches and pains

WHY wait for a severe pain, an ache, a rheumatic twinge following exposure, a sore muscle, sciatica, or lumbago to make you quit work, when you should have Sloan's Liniment handy to help curb it and keep you active, and fit, and on the job?

Without rubbing, for it penetrates, apply a bit today to the afflicted part. Note the gratifying, clean, prompt relief that follows. Sloan's Liniment couldn't keep its many thousands of friends the world over if it didn't make good. That's worth remembering. All drug stores—three times—the largest is the most economical. 35c, 70c, $1.40.

Sloan's Liniment (Pain's enemy)

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. It is prepared, and saves about $2.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied by the sore throat, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with cough and you want quick help, try this reliable home-made cough remedy. Any drug-gist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with 1½ cups granulated sugar, or 1½ cups of the clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief. You can feel that you have a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, croup and chest colds. There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute relief or your money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

was a great success, cleared $50. — Allyn Wood was operated on for appendicitis at Thanksgiving hospital Monday morning. He is a returned soldier. We learn he is doing nicely.

WORCESTER HAPPENINGS.

Literary Club Has "Chinese Meeting"

—Hallowe'en Celebration Monday. Worcester, Oct. 27.—Last Monday evening the Worcester Literary club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Herrick and, as the club is studying China, a Chinese luncheon was given. About 50 were present and some appeared in costume. The house was decorated in such a way as to be suitable to the occasion.

A short program was given, consisting of Chinese music, readings and games. Following this, the club enjoyed some Chinese "teas." For the first course a bowl of very black tea was passed around and everyone was made to drink some of it. Then the ladies, marching by Chinese music into another room, received a dish of chop suey, some scalloped rice, a cup of tea and some wafers, the chop suey and rice being eaten with chop sticks, the guests sitting on the floor Chinese fashion.

The meeting of the club will be omitted next Monday evening, on account of a Hallowe'en celebration on the street.

Big Celebration Next Monday.

A Hallowe'en celebration has been planned for next Monday evening. There will be a street parade, the local band furnishing music, and it is expected that there will be a display of fireworks. It is hoped that the people will show their community spirit by coming out in costume for the parade and helping in every way to make this celebration a success.

Over sixty million breakfasts with Maple Karo last year

Does it interest you to know that Maple Karo outsells all different kinds of maple syrups? Delicious flavor—moderate price the reason

Two big reasons stand out for the record breaking sales of Maple Karo.

First—the flavor of Maple Karo is not an "imitation." The makers are the world's largest users of the purest and best flavored maple sugar.

Over a thousand tons are brought annually from Vermont and Canada—where the finest maple trees grow.

This sugar is used to make Maple Karo and to give it its delicious flavor.

The second reason is quite as interesting as the first:

Maple Karo is remarkably moderate in price—selling at a lower price than any other syrup of approaching quality and flavor.

Over five million cans were sold last year.

Get a can of Maple Karo in the GREEN CAN from your grocer today. If you are not pleased with it, the grocer will gladly return your money.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

Early in 1919, a press agency queried the editors of the country on the subject of government ownership of railroads. This same press agency has just completed another similar investigation of editorial opinion on the general subject of government ownership and operation of industries.

A comparison of the 1920 returns with the 1919 returns is of interest. Last year replies were received from 5,922 editors or 44 per cent of the total in the country. The recent questionnaire was answered by 5,154 or 41 per cent of the editors of the country.

Herewith is a summary of the poll for the two principal questions asked in the railroad questionnaire of 1919 and the principal question asked in the 1920 industrial questionnaire:

1919—Does public opinion favor the return of the railroads to private ownership? Yes, 4,915, 85 per cent; No, 652, 11 per cent; in doubt, 214, 4 per cent.

1920—What is the sentiment in your community on government ownership and operation of railroads? Against, 4,534, 81 per cent; For, 616, 11 per cent; in doubt, 435, 8 per cent.

1920—Does public opinion favor ownership and operation of industries by the federal government? Against, 4,466, 87 per cent; For, 510, 10 per cent; in doubt, 143, 3 per cent.

It is to be observed that the percentage of replies favoring government ownership is almost identical in the two questionnaires—11 per cent in 1919 and 10 per cent in 1920. The high percentage now voting against government ownership—87 per cent in 1920, as compared with 81 per cent in 1919, is almost entirely due to the fact that the number of those in doubt has considerably declined, i. e., from 8 per cent in 1919 to 3 per cent in 1920.

On the basis of this poll, the vote against government ownership in this country would be about nine to one.

THE HIATUS IN GREECE.

The death of King Alexander of Greece leaves a hiatus in the government of that kingdom, so far at least as the nominal head of the government is concerned. As to the actual government, Greece like Great Britain is in effect a republic. The king has very little to say about how affairs should be conducted, the premier, Venizelos, being in fact head of the government, much in the same way that Lloyd George is head of that of Great Britain. In the present emergency the premier of Greece has taken matters in his own hands, much as he did in the days of the war, when the subsequently deposed King Constantine would have swung the Hellenic kingdom to the German side.

Prince Paul, the premier's son, may be elevated to the throne, but if he is then his father must formally abdicate the throne which he still claims as his own, and his brother, George, must renounce all claims to sovereignty. Thus, if the family decides to be good, Paul may get the throne, but there is no chance for Constantine or George, whose pro-German leanings are well known.

If the plan of the premier does not go through, it is likely that Greece will become a republic in name as well as in fact. Certainly it has no use for a merely figurehead king whose interests and policies are opposed to those of the country.

HOMESOLDERS MUST REPORT.

Responsibility in Infectious Cases Not All Physicians.

By a recent comparison of records of deaths with reported cases of infectious diseases in New York state, it has been discovered by the State Department of Health that about half of such cases were not being reported to the health authorities as required by law. A further investigation reveals the fact that physicians are not to blame for this, but that the public is not taking the proper precautions to prevent the spread of such diseases.

Failure to report such cases does not only result in the loss of valuable information for the health authorities, but it also tends to prevent the proper treatment of the disease, and that failure so to do renders him liable to the same penalties as are imposed in similar cases of physicians.

Gale's New International.

Gale's Magazine for October, now called Gale's New International, is out and contains a lot of interesting material. It has been received by a large number of people in Oneonta and elsewhere. It has been praised for its clear and concise presentation of the facts of the world's progress, and for its beautiful illustrations.

The pages of the magazine are devoted to pictures of what is going on in the world. It is a "Mexican Communique" and L. W. W. One of the "Mexicans" is L. A. E. Gale, who is described as a "Member of the Executive Committee of the Communist party, in charge of the Department of Public Service of the L. W. W." Compared with his associates, Gale, the Mexican, shows up well.

ANOTHER DISTRESSING CASE.

Cruel Treatment to Decatur Man's Cattle Is Stopped.

Not only was a complaint of the following case made to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, but so flagrant was it in the eyes of the neighbors that it was also reported to the state trooper. Last Thursday, October 27, the county agent with Sergeant Deane and State Trooper Sullivan went to Decatur to investigate the affair.

Outside the town, on one of the Hancock farms, a man, John G. Brown, who was running the farm, had confined two very effective ways to prevent his cattle from wandering from their place.

Out of a herd of 19, four of the cows were hobbled in the following manner: The neck of the cow was drawn down to the front hoof by means of a heavy leather strap, giving a play of about seven inches. It meant that the cow's nose was practically fastened to the ground—when it tried to raise its head, the suffering eyes protruded in a most pitiful way. One hobble was a chain instead of the strap. A young bull and four cows had a wire through the nose, which was attached a trailing piece of barbed wire, which dragged about the animal's front feet; whenever the cow stepped on the wire, it tore its nose; and these contrivances had been on the stock night and day, for weeks.

The man's excuse was the usual one, that the cattle broke down his fences, and destroyed his crops; the argument that the crops were in did not seem to appeal to him, nor the fact that the herd was pastured in a meadow where there was practically nothing to eat. Cattle loose in a full pasture, where they can also get water seldom stray away.

The animals were driven back to the barn, the hobbled ones limping along, with a most distressing jerking of the head every time they took a step, and Sergeant Deane ordered Drum to take off the straps and chains, and to cut out the wire. Drum was taken before the justice of the peace, I. W. Mowers, of the town of Decatur, and there pleaded guilty to the charge of wilful, deliberate cruelty to animals. Judge Mowers gave him six months in the Albany penitentiary, but suspended sentence pending good behavior, out of consideration of Drum's family of little children.

This second case of the kind is published in order that the public may know the attitude of the society towards this outrageous practice. And warning is given that persons who can be proved guilty of such treatment of their stock will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law that is behind the society.

The sight of those helpless creatures, nibbling away at the barren field, stepping with the greatest care not to tear further their bleeding noses, was one to make the beholder sick with pity, or indignant with a perfectly justifiable wrath.

NEW INTERLOCKING PLANT.

Public Service Directs D. & H. Construction at Schoharie Junction.

Albany, Oct. 27.—The Public Service commission, second district, in this city on Tuesday directed the Delaware and Hudson railroad to forthwith prepare plans and specifications for the enlargement or reconstruction of its interlocking plant at Schoharie Junction, which will provide for the control of all switches and signals which may be involved in the movement of trains over the main tracks, including the third main track between Schoharie Junction and Deane.

The order requires suitable mechanism to be installed in the present tower or other tower, as the company may elect, necessary to fully and completely protect the movement of trains governed by signals and passing over the switches embraced in the territory between the south end of the present Schoharie Junction station and a point about 1,200 feet northerly.

Start on the work of the installation is required by the commission within 20 days. Accidents have occurred at Schoharie Junction and the commission, after investigation, has determined that public safety requires the enlargement of the interlocking plant at that point, and the order today follows. The railroad is to notify the commission within ten days whether or not it will accept the order.

On Sunday morning last, Mrs. Lula Walker occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church at Liverpool, and in the evening of the Westminster Presbyterian church in Syracuse.

Dockage

National Grain Improvement Service.

IT IS difficult to understand why grain is not more frequently cleaned in the country, the dockage ground and fed at home.

In some years there is scarcely a car of No. 2 grain received, while car after car of No. 4 and No. 5 and no-grade grain is sent to market.

This always lowers the price. Freight must be paid upon the refuse contained in these cars and moreover the dockage must be charged against the shipper.

All grain is now graded under federal supervision whether undertaken by inspectors in the states or at market.

In order to determine the grade and how much must be charged back for dockage, a small fanning mill which is known as the "kicker" is employed by both state and grain exchange inspectors. This separates the sample into three main lots: clean grain; sticks and trash and other kinds of grain; broken kernels and weed seeds.

There is always a premium to be paid for clean grain and if nothing else were shipped, the price would be correspondingly higher.

Then, too, is the car shortage to be considered. If nothing but clean grain were shipped, thousands of cars could be released for other duty.

BACK FROM SYRACUSE.

Representatives of Oneonta W. C. T. U. Return from State Meeting.

The Oneonta and other Otsego representatives of the W. C. T. U., who had been in attendance for six days at the annual meeting of the state organization, returned home yesterday. Among them were the county president, Mrs. Lula Walker, and Mrs. L. B. Clarke, Mrs. Genevieve Holmes, Mrs. Lu. M. Williams and Mrs. E. A. Neering of Oneonta; Mrs. W. C. Byard and Miss Caroline Davis of Milford, and Mrs. Duke of Edmeston.

Altogether there were 304 delegates in attendance at the session, which adjourned on Tuesday, and each day the big First Baptist church of the city was crowded to capacity. The presiding officer was Mrs. Ella A. Boole, who is the prohibition candidate for United States senator.

Hon. Charles R. O'Connor of Hobart, who is the state prohibition enforcement officer, gave an interesting address Monday afternoon, and in addition there were many other speakers of state and nation-wide reputation in attendance. On Monday evening interesting reports were given by the delegates to the conference held last August in Westminster Abbey, in London, these reports including not only the conference itself but their trips to old-world battlefields.

Resolutions were adopted and plans outlined for progressive work along the lines of law enforcement and temperance education.

On Sunday morning last, Mrs. Lula Walker occupied the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church at Liverpool, and in the evening of the Westminster Presbyterian church in Syracuse.

ADVISORY COUNCIL MEETS.

Every Community Represented Next Wednesday at Cooperstown.

All roads lead to Cooperstown on the morning of November 3, 1920. Every community will be represented in this important meeting by from three to five of the leading farmers of Otsego county.

At this meeting the direct representatives of the farmers will listen to reports of officers and pass on them; will elect officers, adopt county plan of work, consider finances and pass such resolutions as they deem wise. They will pass on general policies of the bureau and make such recommendations as the needs of their respective communities require.

Every committeeman has been notified of this meeting and we take this opportunity to still further emphasize the need of a full attendance to the end that every locality as well as every farmer may be represented.

Mr. Committeeman, this is your meeting. Remember the date—Nov. 3, 1920, at Cooperstown, 10:30 a. m.

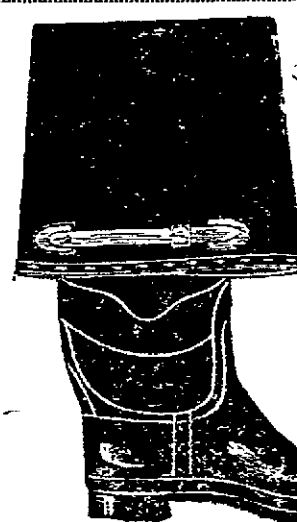

L. O. O. M. Meeting Well Attended.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the Loyal Order of Moose, which was held in the rooms last evening. Regular routine business was taken up and it was decided that a masquerade would be given by the Woman's chapter of the Moose on Friday evening in the club rooms.

It does not cost any more to enjoy real coffee satisfaction—not if you order Otsego coffee. When you have tasted it you will know what satisfaction means.

Rheumatism Dangerous

Anyone having the slightest taint of rheumatism should drive it out quickly. Rheuma has done it for thousands and should give you the same satisfying results. Money back if it fails, says George S. Slade. No red tape to this offer.

LOCAL MENTION.

—The Senior class of the Oneonta High school held a meeting after school hours yesterday for the purpose of explaining to the members the requirements of a senior. It was also decided that a meeting would be held next Wednesday for the purpose of organizing the class, and officers will be elected.

Slight Blaze on Normal Avenue.

The fire department was called by telephone yesterday noon to the Blanchard residence at 7 Normal avenue, where a blaze had started in the roof of a projection on one side of the house. The blaze was easily got at and was put out with little difficulty. The house was filled with smoke and this probably caused more damage than the fire, but the loss is only slight.

Chief Choate and his men were puzzled for some time as to how the fire started but later learned that a kerosene lamp had been working on the roof of an adjacent house and a piece of charcoal had been blown down onto the Blanchard house, where it set the shingles afire.

Slight Change in D. & H. Schedule

Beginning on Sunday new time schedules will become operative on the various divisions of the Delaware & Hudson company's lines. On the Susquehanna division, there will be changes on several of the Albany-Albany locals. The only change, however, affecting Oneonta, is in Train 506, which will hereafter leave Oneonta week days at 8:20 a. m. This is the same time as that under which the train prior to last spring had for a long time been operated.

Meetings Today.

Democratic Rally Tonight.

The last Democratic rally of the campaign in Oneonta will be held this evening at the theatre. Speakers of ability and prominence will be in attendance, among them Congressman W. E. Goodwin of Arkansas, William E. Fitzsimmons of Albany, and Cortland A. Wilber of Binghamton. Music by City band.

W. C. T. U. Meeting This Afternoon.

There will be a regular meeting of the Oneonta W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Williams, 57 Maple street, this afternoon at half past two o'clock. The reports of delegates to the state convention at Syracuse will be given, and many important matters discussed. All friends will be welcomed.

Under the Knife.

Miss Katherine Kirwin of 22 Ford avenue underwent an operation at the Parshall hospital yesterday, which was performed by Dr. Brinkman, assisted by Drs. Latcher and Smith. It was a major operation, and she is reported as doing as well as can be expected.

Good Time Assured Halloween.

Reservations for tables for the Halloween dance Monday evening, Nov. 1st, 9 to closing time, indicate that this dance will be a big success. Prizes for dancing now on display at Ward's jewelry store.

The ladies of the Woman's Relief corps will hold a Halloween social next Saturday evening at Odd Fellows hall, admission 15c. Light refreshments will be served, and a program given. The public is cordially invited; come and have a jolly time. There will be no meeting of the W. R. C. Saturday evening.

NEW YORK CAR IS DEWAR'S

BUT LEGAL ACTION MAY BE NECESSARY TO RECOVER CAR.

Stolen Cadillac Has Been in Possession of New Yorker for 19 Months and He Is Reluctant to Give It Up Now—Cadillac Company Aids in Recovery.

Although J. A. Dewar absolutely identified the car held by the New York police as the same passenger Cadillac that was stolen from his garage two years ago, he was unable to bring it home with him from New York yesterday, and it may be necessary for him to start legal proceedings to recover the automobile.

Upon his arrival in the metropolis, Mr. Dewar was directed to the property clerk of the police department, where he was given a description of the car that was believed to be his property, but which was now in the hands of another man. When Mr. Dewar was shown the car, he assured the authorities that there was no doubt about it being his Cadillac and he succeeded in convincing them of this fact to their satisfaction. A snag was struck, however, in the person of the man who now claimed the car as his property. He said he had purchased it in good faith, not knowing that it was a stolen machine, and objected to Mr. Dewar taking it. The latter did not press the matter at that time, but thinks he will have no difficulty in regaining his car when action is brought to bear against its other claimant.

The manner in which Mr. Dewar came to be notified that a car answering the description of his machine had been located in New York, had made him an even more enthusiastic representative of the Cadillac Motor car company. When the New York police suspected the car of being a stolen one, they took the engine, body and other numbers and forwarded them to the Cadillac company, with a request that the company furnish information as to whom the car had originally been sold. The Cadillac company keeps a complete record of all its sales, so that it is prepared at any time to assist in the location of a stolen car. The company wrote back to the police that they had no record corresponding to the engine number on the car, but that the body and assembly numbers were the same as those on a car that had been sold three years ago to J. A. Dewar of Oneonta, N. Y.

The New York police then notified Mr. Dewar, which led to his trip of this week and the resultant identification. The New Yorker who claimed the car as his property said he bought it nearly two years ago, so it would seem that he probably got it from the thieves who took it from Mr. Dewar's garage. Mr. Dewar found the car in good running order, and about the only change that had been made to it was altering the engine number.

Of course, Mr. Dewar has no information as to who stole his machine, but he is satisfied to have recovered it after this long period. Although literally, he hasn't recovered it yet, he thinks it will not be long before it is again back in its accustomed place in his garage on Chestnut street.

Which Class Are You In?

One class here in Oneonta are having what they call a "h—" of a time for the day, with no thought or care for the humiliating days when others will have to pass the hat for them and when the poor house doors will open for them. Another class work together to help each other, save and loan money to each other, divide all gains together, with which to get homes and farms and make rent money pay for them; thus giving little fellows a fair chance and a square deal. Uncle Sam and the state help me to give this chance and I've done it to the tune of several million dollars and am still on the job. Take your choice, for it's no undue gain to me or to the 12 good Oneonta men who help me, for I'm just working out a safe live and let live plan. Good day. I am the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association.

RHETORICAL DELIGHTS.

The Famous Story of Marce Chan Given by Normal Students Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon, at the Oneonta Normal, a delightful program was given by members of the school. There was a fair attendance outside of the school body. The program was opened by a piano solo by Miss Germond, followed by the famous story, Marce Chan, which was very cleverly given by seven of the school students. The story was written from "The Virginia." Dr. Shoemaker, who is the instructor of the rhetoricals, deserves much credit for the success. Those who took part in the story were Miss Billis, Miss Petrie, Miss Mullineugh, Miss Rich, Miss Parks, Miss Topping and Miss Martin. The story, which was a sentimental and sad one, was well expressed by the manner in which each one took their part. Following the story, Miss Green of the Normal faculty rendered a soprano solo.

Immediately following the rhetorical exercises, the members of the Senior Glee club gave an entertainment to the members of the Junior Glee club and to the faculty, which consisted of games and dancing in the kindergarten room. Light refreshments were served, which closed an enjoyable afternoon for the Normal students.

REPUBLICANS ARE HAPPY.

Plenty of Campaign Joy Will Be Present at Final Rally Tomorrow.

Chairman Frank G. Sherman, of the Republican county committee, and his associates are planning to make tomorrow night a memorable one in Oneonta, for the final rally preparatory to election day will be held that evening at the Oneonta theatre. In addition to speech making, there will be plenty of music and a general pre-election jollification, as local Republicans have no doubt in their minds but that Warren G. Harding will be the next president of the United States.

The principal speaker of the evening will be William I. Swope, United States district attorney for the state of Pennsylvania, who will discuss the most important issues of the campaign, especially the League of Nations question. There will also be some local speakers on the program, and Republicans probably will be out in full force tomorrow night to put the rally over with a bang. The rally is scheduled to commence at 8 o'clock.

ANNUAL RED CROSS MEETING

Oneonta Chapter Presents Reports for Past Year and Elects Directors for 1920-21—Activities of Year.

The annual meeting of the members of Oneonta chapter, American Red Cross, was held Wednesday evening at Municipal hall. Owing to unfavorable weather, the attendance was not large but much interest was felt in the reports of the various officials, showing the financial condition of the chapter, its membership and the work which during the past year has been accomplished. Irving H. Stone presided at the meeting.

The report of Robert Hall, treasurer of the chapter, was submitted and showed a balance at the beginning of the year of $10,754.29, with receipts of $2,538.10, making a total of $13,292.39. There was paid out during the year the sum of $5,250.88, of which $2,187.85 was remitted to division headquarters and the balance expended in Home Service work. The balance now on hand is $8,041.51. The chapter has 2,774 annual members, 25 magazine members, 1 contributing member and one life member.

Mrs. Harriet E. Ives reported the very satisfactory activities of the production committee. During the year there were 523 garments made, including 250 women's garments, 12 layettes, 72 children's sweaters, 175 pairs of stockings, 15 pairs of socks and 19 miscellaneous garments.

The report of the Home Service section was made by Mrs. DeFonde, who in addition to a statement of the activities of the section, which has headquarters open daily in the postoffice building, read two letters received from the late Dominio Minnerosa, written while he was in vocational training, and which, full as they were of gratitude for the help accorded by the Oneonta chapter, gave a good insight into the work done by the Home Service section.

The annual report of the secretary, which was read by Miss Alice W. Ford, gave a clear idea of the general work of the year. Later the nominating committee submitted a list of directors as follows: H. W. Fluhrer, Mrs. E. J. Farley, Robert Hall, H. M. Goldsmith, A. B. Tobey, Miss Florence M. Matteson, Miss Eliza E. Gee, Mrs. I. H. Rowe, Mrs. M. C. Hemstreet, P. F. Gallagher, Mrs. J. J. Kalligan and Miss Alice W. Ford. The officers of the chapter will be elected later by the directors, either from their own number or outside of it, as the directors see fit.

There being no further business, the meeting on motion adjourned sine die.

As has been previously noted in The Star, the canvass for the ensuing year will begin early in November. It is believed that the canvassers will meet with generous response, and that the present membership will not only be maintained but increased. Further particulars relative to this work will appear at an early date.

DELAWARE COUNTY NEWS

FOREST FIRES PREVALENT.

North Franklin Farmers Work Hours to Down Stubborn Blazes.

North Franklin, Oct. 27. — North Franklin farmers have been kept busy fighting forest fires during the past week, and they think that they have had about enough of it for this season. Last Saturday night, in the woods on the former Bush farm, now owned by the Webb Lumber company of Oneonta, a fire started in some unknown manner and burned over quite a piece of woods before it was put out. The Webb company has a saw mill in the woods and the blaze was put out by the employees after a hard fight.

On Sunday evening, at about 7 o'clock, Fire Warden Stawson was notified that the woods on Mrs. Ellen Blanchard's farm, formerly owned by the late Hamilton Anderson, were on fire. Hastily summoned, a dozen men, the fire warden made his way to the scene of the blaze, and the men succeeded in putting it out after two hours of nerve-racking work.

Although the origin of these two fires is not known, the hills in the vicinity of North Franklin are infested with hunters these days, and it is thought the blaze may have started from some smoldering camp fire. As the woods have been very dry for the past few weeks, it would behoove hunters to exercise great caution to prevent destruction of the forests by fire. And the farmers are kept busy enough without having to fight fire after a hard day's work.

ENDS IN NON-SUIT.

Not Sufficient Evidence Against Erie Railroad in Tanner Case.

Delhi, Oct. 27. — After swearing all of the witnesses in the case of Howard M. Rhead, as administrator of the goods and chattels of Nathan Tanner, deceased, vs. John Barton Payne, director general of railroads, ex rel Erie Railroad company, which had taken up the greater part of Tuesday, the defendant's lawyers, Wales & Meagher, asked for a non-suit on the grounds that there had not been sufficient evidence given in the case to show that the railroad was negligent. After considerable argument on both sides by the lawyers, Judge Kellogg granted the non-suit.

Jurors were then chosen for the next case on trial, which is The People vs. Jonas Frazer and Gordon Kellogg. This case is for damages for dogs killing sheep. The case is now on trial.
